ZHOURCKH: THE COMEDIC ADVENTURES VOLUME I

To further incentivize the need for justice so the Bluesie-Jazz comedy festival is realized in reasonable time(necessitating a forensic audit), I am offering ZHOURCKH: THE COMEDIC ADVENTURES VOLUME I as a print only receipt book. Your support means the world to me. If you met me at the get together(because only those who care in the least with their support should criticize the other comedian, me) and you show me a verifiable $50 and over support of the free books for life cause, this print book is yours directly from me. I intend to show love to those who show me love. This too is important to me. This book will not be made available online in ebook or print. Your receipts mean the world, freedom and justice to me. Justice is important to me. I will not stop working hard towards achieving it. May you be blessed in more ways than I can offer for participating in my cause for justice. I am excited to write the book as much as I am about my own jokes as this differentiating x black woman. So, my work here is to write two sets of comedic acts, one of which I will personally perform. I live for love, truth, knowledge, wisdom and natural reality. Thanks for being a part of it:

Author's Note

If this work connects with you intellectually, spiritually, emotionally, or in any other way personal, it is free. If it doesn't, and you're rather of a different preference and won't ever come back to my works. It is free as well. Graces. I have never sought to run the world or rule it. Not my thing. I do seek to connect with humanity and make cross generational differences with practical, emotional and spiritual intelligence—matters connecting humanity and saving lives like mine against the odds life brings that I do know about intimately. Works are usually accounts of life, nature, science, politics and more in experiential reality. It is a privilege to be alive despite what I have been through. And I don't intend to take this deserved privilege lightly.

The work as well as others like it can be found on my website available free at www.edewlogics.com. To support free works like this and others available on my site, please support the free books for life cause. Thank you.

Self-trust: a devotion

Wisdom is an uncultivated climate. It reserves the best conditions for the worst limits. And life has a way of quietly apportioning its slow poison. It is for the wise to redirect its aims against the expected. Self trust is an instinct devoid of trust and essential to being. I choose my life. It is mine without choice. Those who choose it without repercussions must be made inferior.

My words are solemnly divine—preceding their thoughts, their ideas and actions. Must I be their muse and not their god? There is no ending to long suffering. It is for the spirit to recompense the act beyond measure. Their disrespect for my spirituality, humanity and intellect must stick to them—the plague, like a plague. It must become their plight, their identifier, the root of their inevitable, inescapable misadventures.

Hatred is a definition intimated within the obnoxious—ignorance is within the crude.

It is the belief of some people that I can be physically strayed away from a life and space belonging to me. That's because their intellect doesn't work. May it forever be slow at work notwithstanding their ceaseless effort to derail my work. Life is a strange offense—ceaselessly on the offensive. I surrender self-trust to my consciousness. It underlies my conscience.

A personal prediction is a life saver for no two lives are the same in benevolence. My self-trust is entrusted to me so self-deceit cannot be my downfall. It is all the gem I yearn for, require. It is that which I polish from tarnish so my life can redeem me with true graces. I surrender to the surreal influence of true graces.

I had once found food to be a source of energy; in its luxury, a sign of success, prized presupposition for a supposed "good life". Afflicted with metabolic syndrome due to homelessness, I find love in cruel and indecent measures, good and decency in hugely subjectively relative terms. Life itself becomes a syndrome. A syndrome is a pattern for a pre-told foretelling, a statement of existence. Good and love must be defined and redefined within the syndrome we call life.

With self-trust I give little to no influence to Superstition. Superstition is an easy fate; a pattern of belief systems. It can easily be made a syndrome and may evolve into a super-syndrome. It does not absorb dereliction but sits it out with the awe and wonder of a spiralling pot of gold. Here the Goose is as good as the gander even as the Goose may not presuppose the aims of the Gander, nor the Gander the aims of the Goose. On what basis are their aims equitable or equitable? I seek no superstition for my trust. There has been nothing easy in its regard.

My aims define me. I am perpetually founded, funded and refined in them. They may not be requited in kind. Yet they are my pathway to realignment in self-trust. I may suffer in the trust of others; nevertheless I am optimized in good graces, refined and redefined in renewed trust.

The currency of my life cannot reside in the cheap graces of the material. I must not be summoned against my will. My will in spirit cannot be broken. While evil rages for my destruction. I plant myself in the opulence of truth and self-trust. I hold my stance in true conviction from decency and dignity to reap what I sow. True love emerges from necessity over dominating impulses and comfort. From this stance, I recommend my spirit for congenial excellence.
